- 3.3 Debit Card transactions (including online and overseas transactions, if applicable) effected in US Dollars will be converted into the currency of the account linked to the Debit Card. Debit Card transactions effected in foreign currencies other than US Dollars will be first converted to US Dollars before being converted into the currency of the account linked to the Debit Card. The conversion will take place on the date on which the transaction is received and recorded by us ("posting date"). The currency conversion will be based on our prevailing foreign exchange rate or an exchange rate determined by VISA, MasterCard International, American Express or such other network as may be applicable, depending on whether the conversion is done by us, VISA, MasterCard International, American Express or such other network, as applicable. In addition, the transaction may be subject to administrative fees as mentioned in the Schedule of Fees and Charges.
- 3.4 If your Debit Card transaction (including online and overseas transactions, if applicable) is converted into local currency via dynamic currency conversion (i.e. a service offered at certain ATMs and merchants which allows a card member to convert a transaction denominated in a foreign currency to local currency at the point of withdrawal/sale), you acknowledge that the process of conversion and the exchange rates applied will be determined by the relevant ATM operator/ merchant or dynamic currency conversion service provider, as the case may be. We do not determine whether a card transaction will be converted into local currency via dynamic currency conversion and, where your transaction is for a retail purchase, you may have to check with the relevant merchant whether such conversion was effected.
- 3.5 For Debit Card transactions initiated in local currency, but processed outside the country, when such transactions (including online transactions) are effected:
- With a local merchant whose payments are processed through an overseas intermediary; or
 - With a merchant who is registered as an overseas merchant regardless of its actual location,

Citibank may in its discretion charge a processing fee plus other charges at Citibank's prevailing rates for all foreign currency transactions. Citibank shall apply the prevailing rate of exchange, as determined it, at the time and date on which the transaction is debited to the Account. The Customer will reimburse Citibank for all costs and expenses incurred by it as a result of such transactions.

- 4.4 The Customer agrees that the Customer's right to make a withdrawal and the number and amount of withdrawals are subject to the laws, rules and regulations (including without limitation, any exchange controls, regulations or limitations) of the UAE, the country in which such withdrawal is requested and the institution that owns the terminal.
